The (in)famous Marie's Best Watch (MBW) has released an updated and improved copy of the venerable Patek Philippe Nautilus. While most copies of the Nautilus are easy to spot because of the poor quality of materials, this replica uses better-quality steel (316L surgical) and a high-quality dial.

This replica has the correct clamshell case design that is unique to the genuine Patek Nautilus. Previous examples of fake Nautilus' were notorious for their rough quality when it came to the faceted case finish. This replica Patek improves upon that level of quality dramatically. The watch band, also usually thin and fragile on replicas, is of a higher quality. The most notable flaw on this fake is the incorrect date font.
